

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

• Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's talk about volunteering!

Learning Outcome

Understand detailed descriptions of real or imaginary events and experiences in present, past or future and in spoken or written texts.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about social issues and moral dilemmas.
- I can talk about having something done.
- I can talk about unusual events in the past.

Ask your partner:

- Have you ever volunteered? Where?
- Would you like to volunteer in the future? Why? Why not?
- How could more people be encouraged to volunteer?

Let's Explore!

Helping the needy.

* If someone is "needy", then they require help or assistance.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Amy: Vanessa, I haven't seen you in ages! How have you been?
- Vanessa: Amy! I've been better than ever, thanks. I've only just begun my culinary classes and recently I've been meditating and doing yoga almost daily. How about you?
- Amy: Great, I'm just on my way to the community center to get some information on volunteering.
- Vanessa: Volunteering? You've already got so much on the go!
- Amy: It's like I said in my course, Vanessa, we're never too busy to help those less fortunate than us. Have you ever volunteered?
- Vanessa: I haven't done any yet. I have a lot on my plate at the moment. One step at a time, you know.
- Amy : Of course, you've got to pace yourself.
- Vanessa: Your course was a real eye-opener, but I have only just begun to take stock of my place in the world. Up to now, I haven't had time to even think about taking on any new challenges. Maybe in a few weeks I'll have you set up an appointment, if you don't mind.
- Amy: Not at all, there's no rush.
- Vanessa: Now that I think about it, I actually have a contact at a local grassroots charity. They could really use a hand. I'll have her get in touch with you, if that's okay.
- Amy: That would be great. Have her call me on my cell, if possible. I'm going to have my landline removed, so that number is no longer valid. What do they do, exactly?
- Vanessa: They do humanitarian work in Lesotho.
- Amy: Lesotho? I've never even heard of it.
- Vanessa: It's an impoverished country located within the borders of South Africa. I've never been, but I've heard it's been devastated by the AIDS pandemic.
- Amy: Well it certainly sounds like a worthwhile endeavor. Please do have her reach out to me.
- Vanessa: Will do!

Let's Practice!

Let's review some of the terms Amy and Vanessa used in their conversation.

Instructions: Match the halves to complete each sentence. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1. The community center Amy talks about is | a. people who have a low living standard supported by welfare. |
| 2. Volunteering is an activity where | b. a public location for social support. |
| 3. Amy uses the expression "those less fortunate" to refer to | c. the concern for improving the welfare and happiness of people. |
| 4. By "humanitarian work", Vanessa means | d. Lesotho has been reduced to chaos, disorder, or helplessness. |
| 5. By "devastated", Vanessa means | e. services are provided for no financial gain. |

Let's Practice!

Will Amy have Vanessa volunteer too?

Instructions: Organize the mystery sentence. Write each sentence in the correct order below. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

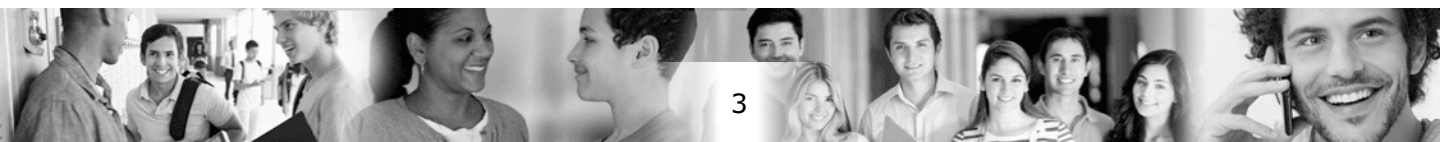

1. . / me / an / for / you / up / appointment / have / set / I'll

2. have / with / you / get / . / in / touch / her / I'll

3. call / Have / cell. / on / my / her / me

4. going / have / removed / . / I'm / my / landline / to

5. have / do / . / out / her / reach / Please / me / to

Extension Activity

If I won one million dollars.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Imagine you won one million dollars. Write down a list of ten things you would buy for yourself or for others.
- Make a list of all the things that you would no longer do for yourself.
- Expand your list into full sentences.
- Read your list to a partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I make a list of things I would like to have.

☐ ☐

I make a list of things I would have done for me.

☐ ☐

I expand my lists into complete sentences.

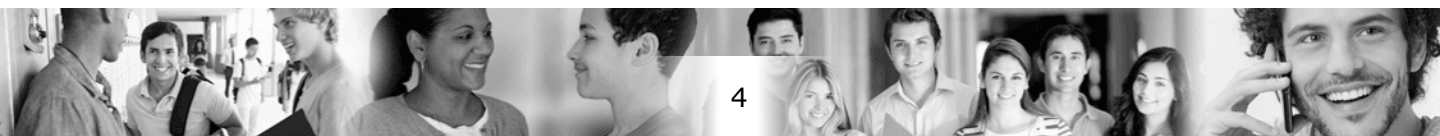

☐ ☐

I share my list with a partner.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- community center (noun): a place where locals can meet to play sports or take courses
e.g. Great, I'm just on my way to the community center to get some information on volunteering.
- volunteering (noun): the act of giving your time in order to help the less fortunate e.g. Volunteering is a great way to help your community.
- to have a lot on one's plate (expression): to be very busy e.g. I have a lot on my plate at the moment.
- grassroots (adjective): involving ordinary local people as opposed to professionals
e.g. Now that I think about it, I actually have a contact at a local grassroots charity.
- humanitarian (adjective): involving charity work or helping less fortunate people e.g. They do humanitarian work in Lesotho.
- impoverished (adjective): extremely poor
e.g. It's an impoverished country located within the borders of South Africa.
- to devastate (verb): to cause great damage
e.g. It has been devastated by the AIDS pandemic.
- pandemic (noun): a disease that affects large numbers of people at the same time
e.g. The pandemic now affected 32 countries.
- eye-opener (noun): something that surprises you and allows you to see things in a new way
e.g. Your course was a real eye-opener.

Learning Points

Causative Verb: Have

The verb to have has several meanings in English. It can be used to show the causative.

Let's review the uses of to have:

Use	Example
To describe possession	I have a large family.
To describe experience	I had a great time last night.
To describe condition	I have a terrible cold.

You use a causative verb when you want to talk about something that someone else did for you or for another person. It means that the subject caused the action to happen, but didn't do it themselves.

You use the causative verb to have when you want to make it clear that the subject paid, asked, or persuaded the other person to do something.

For example:

Have your spouse or housemates clean up after themselves.

In this sentence you ask or persuade your spouse or housemates to clean up after themselves.

The structure of the causative is:

have + object + verb

Examples:

- I'll have you set me up an appointment, if you don't mind.
- Have her call me on my cell.*
- I'm going to have my landline removed.
- Please do have her reach out to me.

Learning Points

Present Perfect for Unusual Events

You use the Present Perfect tense to talk about past events or actions that have a connection to the present.

There are certain words that you usually use in sentences with the Present Perfect tense.

Look at the chart for some examples:

Words	Use	Example
Just Only just Recently	In sentences that talk or ask about events that happened in the recent past and may still be happening now	I've only just begun my culinary classes and recently I've been meditating and doing yoga almost daily.
So far Until now Up to now	In sentences that talk or ask about events that started in the recent past and continue into the present	Up to now I haven't had time to even think about taking on any new challenges.
Ever	In questions that ask about experience	Have you ever volunteered?
Yet	In questions and negative statements	I haven't done any volunteering yet.

